

The image shows the front cover of an antique book. The cover is decorated with marbled paper featuring a pattern of dark, wavy, organic shapes in shades of blue, green, and brown against a lighter background. A central white rectangular label is pasted onto the cover, containing the title and author's name in a black Gothic-style font. The label is enclosed in a double-line black border. The spine of the book is visible on the left side, showing a plain, light-colored material.
